I believe in Microsoft and want to support them but I am not sure how to do that. I am so tired of reading about the lawsuits against them and the judges who seem to be trying to destroy the company with their decisions.

You would think that our government would be doing everything they could to support a company like Microsoft! It has had such a positive impact on our economy. Instead of being proud that our country has a company that is a leader in technology, it seems the government is trying to destroy Microsoft.

Do whatever you have to do to support them so they can spend their time, energy and money to innovate instead of defending their success.
